

2016 Executive Women in Business

Mid Atlantic Real Estate Journal will publish our 14th Annual Executive Women in Business edition October 28, 2016.

Over the past several years, women are effecting change and taking leadership roles in a traditionally male dominated industry. Many have reached the top of their respected fields, founded their own firms, or established themselves in key positions within their industry giants. The October 28, 2016 edition will feature these women and their supporting organizations.

Be a part of this very special issue highlighting your area of expertise, by telling our readership about your background and your unique success story, advice, and how you made it to the top in your field.
