Greenbaum, Rowe, Smith & Davis LLP is pleased to be a sponsor of the Mazars 2023 Food & Beverage Forum, which will be held this year on Tuesday, May 9, 2023 from 5:30pm - 8:30pm at the Maplewood Country Club.

The firm serves as the gold (and sole law firm) sponsor of this annual event for the ninth time. The evening brings together executives from the food and beverage sector and supporting industries for an evening of networking and a presentation on best practices delivered by leading industry panelists. This year's panelists include Brian Choi (Managing Partner & CEO, The Food Institute), Jason Cohen (Founder & serial snacking entrepreneur), Samuel Kestenbaum (Founder and CEO, Food Fraternity), and Peter Spinner (Director of Strategic Initiatives, Village Supermarket).

In addition to the panel discussion, this year will feature the return of the emerging companies showcase, which will feature several food and beverage start-ups vying for a chance to showcase their products and win a cash prize.

This invitation-only event is open exclusively to individuals who are directly involved in a food & beverage company or engaged in a support industry peripheral to food & beverage, such as transportation and supply chain, warehousing and storage, or packaging and marketing. If you are interested in attending, additional information about registration is available on the Mazars US website.
