Online Event

4:30pm - 6:00pm

Jemi Goulian Lucey, President of the New Jersey Women Lawyers Association (NJWLA), and Emily A. Kaller, President of Trial Attorneys of New Jersey (TANJ), will participate as panelists in "Pathways to Leadership," an online event that will be hosted by the NJWLA on Monday, March 1, 2021 from 4:30pm - 6:00pm.

Over a dozen past, present and future women bar leaders will come together to discuss their personal paths to leadership, the barriers they've overcome, and the importance of representation as the leaders of specialty bar organizations.

Ms. Lucey, a partner in the Employment Law and Litigation Departments, is a trial attorney who concentrates her practice on employment, higher education and professional negligence law, she represents private and public entities and institutions of higher learning in employment discrimination and retaliation actions, professional negligence matters, Title IX claims, and business disputes.

Ms. Kaller, a partner in the Litigation Department, focuses on commercial litigation. She has experience in the prosecution and defense of financing, credit and other banking matters, contract disputes, environmental contamination contribution actions, complex litigation and class action cases involving consumer claims, alleged securities fraud and personal injury.

Additional program details and registration can be found on NJWLA's website.
