Live Webinar and On-Demand

2:00pm - 3:00pm

Steven Nudelman, Chair of the firm's Construction Contracting & Risk Management Practice Group, will present the webinar "The Art of Prosecuting Construction Claims" live on Wednesday, March 8, 2023, from 2:00pm - 3:00pm. The program, developed by Mr. Nudelman, will be hosted by Law Practice CLE and will also be available for viewing on-demand.

The typical construction contract is a veritable minefield when it comes to claims. Using the AIA A201-2017 General Conditions of the Contract for Construction as a backdrop, this course explores a number of significant contract provisions relating to claim prosecution. From the definition of "claim" to the importance of notice provisions, this course highlights key contract clauses for any party to a construction dispute. In addition to notice, this course looks at payment issues, including the impact of prompt payment statutes, as well as the acceptance of final payment at the conclusion of a project. Finally, no seminar on claims would be complete without a look at dispute resolution mechanisms. This course provides a high-level overview of the more popular methods of dispute resolution used to prosecute claims, including mediation, arbitration, and litigation.

The agenda for this presentation is as follows:

Mr. Nudelman is a partner in the firm's Litigation and Real Estate Departments, concentrating his practice in construction law. For over 25 years he has represented members of the construction industry across a broad spectrum of matters. On the transactional side, Mr. Nudelman works with owners and developers, construction managers, general contractors, subcontractors and design professionals to prepare and negotiate contract documents for construction in the New Jersey and New York metropolitan area. His construction contracting work helps his clients manage the risk inherent in construction projects so they may adequately protect their interests now to avoid claims and disputes in the future. When claims and disputes are unavoidable, Mr. Nudelman draws upon his wide-ranging experience in construction litigation, representing clients in state and federal courts throughout the New Jersey/New York metropolitan area, as well as in local and international mediations and arbitrations.

Additional program details and registration for the live and on-demand versions of this webinar are available on the Law Practice CLE website.
